Shipping

Standard delivery usually takes 3–5 business days after dispatch. Delivery estimates can vary by location and carrier.

Eligible products may be returned within 14 days of delivery. Items should normally be unused and in their original packaging. Approved refunds are generally processed within 5–7 business days after the returned item is received.

Support Rule

If information is unavailable in the knowledge base or order records, the agent should tell the customer that the information is unavailable rather than inventing an answer.
